Fifty-Foot Fall From Elevator Kills Man

Howard Strege, 23, Of North Dakota, Victim; Was Painting New Westcentral Building

A twenty-three year old temporary Lincoln resident fell 50 feet to his death while painting an elevator at Twenty-fourth and Fair streets Wednesday afternoon.

He was Howard Strege, 23, of 1144 F street. A resident of Wyndmere, N.D., he has been living in Lincoln for five or six months.

TRAGEDY SITE—Shown is the spot where Howard Strege, a painter, fell to his death Wednesday afternoon. The cross at the top of the picture shows where the scaffold from which Strege fell was when the accident occurred. The point is 50 feet above the railroad tracks on which he fell. (Star Photo.)

Strege was dead on arrival at St. Elizabeth hospital, according to Leslie C. Hassen, deputy sheriff and acting coroner.

Strege and two other men—Alvin Hill and Lee Jordan—were painting from a scaffold about 50 feet up the West central elevator, which is under construction.

B. C. Ohe, foreman for the W. S. Bunch company of Omaha, for whom Strege was working, described the fall as follows:

"The center cable holding the scaffold slipped, tilting the whole works. The end on which Strege was working dropped about six inches and he must have been caught off balance and thrown over the scaffold's guard rail."

Strege's body landed between the railroad tracks beside the elevator.

He had been employed but only one week by the Bunch Co. Previously he had worked for the general contractor who built the elevator.

The incident occurred at about 5 p.m., according to Deputy Sheriff Hassen.

Only survivor known to Lincoln sources is his father Otto, Wyndmere, N. D. Funeral and burial will be at Lidgerwood, N. D.

Warm Ahead After First 'Fall' Day And Frost Invade State

The skies should be fairer and the temperatures warmer for Nebraska Thursday after the whole state experienced its first real "fall" day Wednesday.

Temperatures failed to crawl out of the 60s for the most part on the week's fourth day. A cold mass of air out of the northwest took a 30 degree edge off the previous day's 90 highs, and was expected to bring frost to western and south central portions Wednesday night.

Severity of the freeze and its effect on crops had not been determined early Thursday morning.

Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning brought heavy rains to extensive parts of the Cornhusker state. Lincoln received .67 of an inch of precipitation, but most southern Lancaster county felt as much as 1.50 inches.

Salt creek overflowed slightly between the Turnpike south to

They Felt The Need . . .

Holdrege Emergency Unit Is Unique

BY JOHN SWANSON

(Star Staff Writer)

HOLDREGE, Neb.—"We just felt the need for it." Thus does Kenneth Jackson, chief of the Holdrege fire department, explain why local residents spent nearly $10,000 for equipment that helps—as often as not—total strangers.

That piece of equipment is a red and white truck, equipped with emergency apparatus ranging from diving helmets to surgical tools. Known officially as the Phelps county emergency unit, the truck is the only one of its kind between Minden, Neb., and Denver.

The idea for the truck was born about two years ago when two young boys drowned in an irrigation ditch near here, and no emergency equipment was available to help them. Jackson went before the Holdrege city council and outlined his ideas for a unit. The city fathers purchased the chassis and the fire department volunteers turned out to raise money for the rest by donations.

Physicians Consulted
Holdrege physicians were consulted on the list of equipment which includes: a two-way radio, a stock of blood plasma, surgical equipment for emergency operations, cutting torches, diving helmets, chest respirator, resuscitator, inhalator, sterilizing equipment, a 2,500-watt generator, grappling hooks, lines, and medicine, to name only a portion of the truck's load.

Manning the vehicle is a 12-man crew drawn from the ranks of the fire department. Each holds a first-aid instructor's card, and is ready to go with the truck day or night.

ALWAYS READY for an errand of mercy in that part of the state, this emergency unit rates its own door and lane in the Holdrege fire engine house. Above, Fire Chief Kenneth Jackson stands in the entrance of the truck. (Star Staff Photo.)

Many of the truck's runs are to where the Holdrege workers inoculate the scenes of cornpicker accidents related the populace for typhoid and highway crashes. The latter following a heavy flood. ## Neutrality Apology Fails To Satisfy Reds

Truce Talks Face New Roadblock

TOKYO —(Thursday)—(AP)—The communists hinted today that the formal United Nations' apology for the inadvertent strafing of Kaesong Monday would not be entirely acceptable.

Such a decision would throw another roadblock in the path of a resumption of suspended Korean truce talks.

The North Korean Chinese high command maintained an official silence on the allied note of regret handed them Wednesday.

However, Peiping radio, broadcasting the first red comment on the note said:

"At last Gen. Ridgway has been forced to admit that one of his planes carried out the Monday morning strafing attack on Kaesong. But his claim that the attack was a mistake is absurd. . . ."

While such opinion was not official in the past it frequently has served as a bell-wether of official communist opinion.

Tight Silence Kept

Allied headquarters also was keeping a tight silence on an envelope handed to liaison officers by the reds Wednesday. This presumably contained the communist rejection of a Sept. 6 proposal by Gen. Ridgway, supreme allied commander.

Ridgway wanted to change the site of truce negotiations from Kaesong to another point less subject to interruptions. The reds in a broadcast Wednesday said this was totally unacceptable and merely an attempt by the allies to dodge responsibility for alleged violations of Kaesong's neutrality zone.

The allies have turned down 10 of the 11 communist protests of neutrality violations as fraudulent or unworthy of reply.

U.N. Driving North Through Hills

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS — (Thursday) — (AP)—Hard fighting U.S. and South Korean infantrymen, supported by flamethrowers, tanks and planes, drove slowly northward Wednesday in limited objective attacks among the endless hills of central and east Korea.

They met some of the stiffest resistance of recent months. The allies moved forward along parts of an 80-mile front. It stretched from the Iron Triangle sector on the west-central front to the Sea of Japan. The allied objective was to keep the communists off balance.

It was not spectacular fighting—except on a local scale—but it progressed like some huge construction job.

No Sign of Offensive

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth army commander, told newsmen during inspection of U. S. 25th division troops on the west-central front that there were no present indications the red armies were ready to launch an offensive, despite the recent communist buildup.

This seemed to contradict a statement by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters in Tokyo last week that events in Korea "suggest the possibility of a forthcoming air and ground offensive by the enemy."

Possibly the difference was only in time—Ridgway thinking in terms of weeks or months, and Van Fleet in days.

Whatever the opinions, there was evidence of an uninterrupted red buildup. There was huge truck traffic in North Korea, slacking off slightly only in the past two days; heavy communist rail traffic; continued work on red air strips and roads; growing red artillery bombardments; the use of occasional tanks and self-propelled guns.

Van Fleet conceded the reds were capable of launching a powerful offensive.

"I want them to attack," he said. "It's our best opportunity to defeat them . . . that way we would get them in wholesale lots and not have to kick them piecemeal off the hills like we are doing now."

The Eighth army's first issue of winter clothing was being received for distribution to troops later.

In Washington the defense department announced that U. S. battle casualties reached 22,362, an increase of 596 since last week.

Luxury Airliner Crashes

SAN FRANCISCO —(INS)—A giant million-dollar United Air Lines stratoscruiser crashed into San Francisco bay Wednesday on a training flight, carrying three crewmen to their death.

There were no passengers aboard the big double-decked luxury craft.

It crashed into five feet of water about one mile north of the Redwood City yacht harbor and about 10 miles south of San Francisco international airport.

The crash occurred shortly before noon only minutes after the plane reported it was returning to the airport.

United Air Lines identified the victims as Pilots Hugh C. Worthington of San Mateo, Cal., and Fred Angstadt of Los Angeles and Flight Engineer Charles Brodgen of Millbrae, Cal.

A coast guard helicopter hovering over the scene of the tragedy lowered a man to the plane wreckage and he reported he could find no sign of the victims' bodies.

The three crewmen apparently had been flung into the water when the plane plunged into the bay, flipped over on its back and crashed onward a considerable distance toward shore.

A deputy sheriff who visited the scene said:

"It may be quite a job finding their bodies."

The three crewmen were making a routine "check" training flight required every six months by government aeronautical regulations.

Police Assign Patrol Car In Joyride Case

Complaints of teenage "reckless driving" by residents of the Bethany district have brought about prompt action by the police department.

Capt. J. Paul Shively, of the traffic division, said a police car had been assigned to the area and an investigation would be made to try and stop wild driving.

Partly responsible for the drive to make Bethany streets safe was a resident who visited The Star office Tuesday night to protest joyriding speedsters.

A meeting was held Monday night of several Bethany residents to discuss the situation. Most of the incidents occur between 9 and 11 p.m. and the autos driven are usually good cars.

C.V. Groundbreaking Ceremony To Be Sunday

Senate Nears Approval Of 61 Billion Spending Measure

—Sanitary Board Survey— Flood Plan Talks Are Authorized

Dead Man's Run, Salt, Antelope Included

Trustees of Lancaster county's Sanitary district No. 1 at a special meeting Wednesday morning passed two resolutions authorizing negotiations with a Chicago firm for a survey of flood condition on Salt creek, Antelope creek and Dead Man's Run.

The resolutions follow informal approval by the city council to pay half of a $2,500 fee to Alvord, Burdick and Howson of Chicago, for such a survey.

Council members have not approved the expense or the plan by a formal vote.

Objects Listed
The Sanitary district's resolutions state that the Chicago firm will be asked to bring in recommendations covering the following:

1. Outlining the work still necessary to enable Salt creek to carry flood waters such as occurred in 1942, 1950 and 1951, without flooding adjacent areas in the city.

2. Submitting plans for adequately coping with future floods comparable to those of 1951 in the Antelope and Dead Man's Run valleys.

One of the resolutions states that the city will "be requested to bear one half of the expense of making the survey and report in Antelope and Dead Man's Run valleys . . . that the study of all proceed simultaneously and be made at the earliest date possible."

Terms Asked
A second resolution states: That the Alvord, Burdick and Howson firm "be invited to submit a proposition for making a flood control report on Antelope creek and Dead Man's Run—the report to include a general plan and recommendations for improvement of channel and bridges."

The report is to include a study of reservoir possibilities, assording to the resolution.

"The fee for such study and report, if authorized to be jointly borne by city of Lincoln and Sanitary district No. 1."

Included was a statement that the government is making a survey of the flood problems and expects to make a report within the present year with suggested remedies.

It included, "It is nevertheless the opinion of the trustees that there is urgent need for immediate relief and that this cost will undoubtedly have to be borne by the district and the city of Lincoln."

Mrs. Fern Hubbard Orme, vice president of the city council, told The Star, "I think it's a splendid step in the direction of long needed action."

Gamma Phi Beta Objects To Addition Slated For Kappa Alpha Theta Here

An objection to a proposed addition to the Kappa Alpha Theta building at 1545 S street was filed with the city clerk by the Perry and Perry law firm, representing the Gamma Phi Beta Building association.

The objection was made to a zoning change, requested by the Kappa Alpha Theta Building association, and to the location of the construction which would be permitted by the change.

According to the protest, the Kappa Alpha Theta construction will be joined to a building which does not conform to building regulations.

Attorneys for the Gamma Phi Beta association say their client owns the property south of and adjacent to the property on which the new addition is proposed.

The protest adds that the construction, to be four feet from a jointly owned driveway, would deprive the objectors of an "access of light and air."

Man Slightly Injured In West Lincoln Wreck

John Ward, 58, of 1600 Smith street, was admitted to Lincoln General hospital early Thursday morning for treatment of an injured knee and elbow obtained in an auto collision two miles west of the North Tenth highway "Y" on U.S. 34.

Ward said he was driving east on 34 when another car, whose driver was not identified, came out of a dead-end street and struck his vehicle broadside.

Neither car was damaged extensively.

The Russians remained in their cars until all passengers departed before they entered a freight elevator and were taken up to the street level where Soviet cars and chauffeurs waited.

Funeral services and burial will be in Houston.

McMahon Warns That New U.S. A-Weapons Dwarf Anything Previously Known To Man

(From Press Dispatches)
WASHINGTON — The senate rejected Wednesday night proposals by Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) to trim the 61-billion-dollar military spending bill by more than 56 million dollars.

In two test votes, possibly foreshadowing passage of the huge measure on Thursday, senators defeated amendments by Douglas to lop off more than 46 millions earmarked for expediting aircraft production and another 10.5 millions for ships and facilities procurement.

The senate agreed to limit debate on each pending amendment to half an hour and debate on the overall measure to two hours in an attempt to speed up final action.

Douglas, a leading economy advocate, is offering other proposals which—combined with the two defeated amendments—would have effected a total cut of $183,294,000.

Other Senate Actions
In other actions, the senate:

1. Approved without a fight a 3.3-million-dollar slash proposed by Douglas in salaries of top Pentagon employees, a cut equivalent to 5 per cent.

2. Voted to limit overall employment in the military establishment to 500,000 as compared a budget estimate of 548,000.

Senate passage would send the giant measure to conference for removal of differences with the 56-billion-dollar house-approved version.

Sen. McMahon (D-Conn.) said Wednesday the destructive fury of America's atomic weapons is "truly fantastic . . . a frightful threat" that dwarfs anything previously known to man.

Details Kept Secret
McMahon, chairman of the senate-house atomic committee, made the statement to newsmen on emerging from an "important" closed-door session with members of the atomic energy commission.

Tight-mouthed as to details, McMahon told reporters: "We have made truly remarkable progress in the development of atomic weapons. The destructive stockpile today is by any standards we have previously known truly fantastic."

McMahon shied away from any comment about new weapons, but it was noted that in speaking of progress he used the word "development"—a hint perhaps of greatly improved weapons—rather than mere production.

The exact size of the nation's atomic bomb stockpile is a closely guarded secret.

Weird and Shuddery
McMahon also declined to say whether there was any connection between his statement and President Truman's San Francisco speech last week in which the president spoke of "fantastic" new weapons that could "wipe out civilization."

Since Mr. Truman's disclosure, there has been a rash of congressional hints about weird and shuddery new weapons.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.), member of the appropriations committee, joined the parade Tuesday night by commenting in a radio broadcast:

"There are new weapons that will be used shortly in the Korean war."

The high school band, directed by Otto Vap, and a group of drum majorettes, entertained the visitors.

Geneva, the last stop on the tour, entertained the Sowers at dinner. The Community club of the town sponsored the occasion at the Congregational church, and Howard Hamilton, president of the Geneva chamber of commerce, welcomed the group.

Hissing Stanley Steamer Loses Lead In Race Of Museum Pieces

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Like a pair of highway ghosts out of another era, two ancient autos made the 170-mile trip from Detroit Wednesday in a shade under 12 hours.

Red-shirted, 76-year-old Jack Brause piloted his 1913 Stanley Steamer up to a local hotel at 7:24 p.m. (CST), and 19 minutes later followed by the chugging 1911 Stoddard Dayton driven by Rube DeLaunty, 70. They left Detroit at 7:45 a.m. (CST).

Rube's gas-powered entry remained about 32 minutes ahead of the steamer on elapsed time since their start from Chicago, but Jack's steam "hot-rod" gained some 19 minutes in the day's run. Midway of their Toledo-Cleveland run, Brause and his tea kettle were running nearly an hour ahead, and the driver quipped that he "could have been in Buffalo tonight, if it weren't for that gasoline thing."

Going through Toledo, Brause treated spectators to a burst of speed, hitting 53 miles an hour behind a police motorcycle escort.

"Just for fun," he explained. "Normally I go around 35, but I've had this car up to 80."

Pope Appeals To All Christians To Become Catholics

VATICAN CITY—(AP)—Pope Pius XII appealed Wednesday for all Christians to unite in the Roman Catholic church to beat back "the stormy assaults of the infernal enemy"—communism.

His appeal in a 10,000-word encyclical letter was described officially by the Vatican as "of great importance from the historical, doctrinal and pastoral viewpoints."

In it, the pontiff urged that no more time be wasted.

"Divided and dispersed, Christians cannot continue to lose time against the combined hosts" of the enemies of God, he said.

He appealed for Eastern Orthodox Catholics, who include those of Russia, to line up with Rome.

He called upon all Christians to "unite under one banner."

Great Books
Group Outlines
Study Motive

A question of purpose behind a Great Books Foundation was put to one of its directors Wednesday night on the eve of the first of five leadership training courses in Lincoln.

Here's the answer, put forth by Edward L. Pattullo, assistant regional director of the G. B. F., encompassing 16 midwest states and parts of Canada:

"Great Books is a program on liberal education to make people think." This ties in, Pattullo told The Star, with the fact that in democracy people have to deal with problems in a sensible fashion.

The important part of this, he said, is first recognizing the problem.

Why study the past when you're not living in it?

"To know where you're going, you have to know where you've been," Pattullo answered.

What it boils down to, the Great Books director said, is an attempt to get people to think through their own efforts, enabling them to see their own rewards.

"We deal with problems which are universal and timeless," Pattullo, a captain from 1942 to 1947 with the Thirtieth Frontier Force Rifles in the Indian army, is a graduate with a masters degree from the University of Chicago in political science.

Leadership training courses in the Great Books will be held each Wednesday through Oct. 10. Pattullo will lead the first two discussions, R. P. Dennis, director of the midwest region, will lead the third. They're held from 7 to 9 p.m. in the main assembly hall at the city library.

Membership in the Great Books course, which does not require that the books be bought through any one group, can be had by calling the library. The actual courses will be held later in the fall.

Hit And Run Auto
Child 'Identifies'

A 30-year-old Lincoln man was charged with failing to yield the right of way and failing to report an accident within 24 hours after a nine-year-old girl identified his car as that which struck her on her way home from school.

The child incurred cuts and bruises. She said the driver stopped to ascertain the extent of her injuries, and then drove away.

The child's father took the girl to the same intersection next morning to see if the car would go by again. She identified a passing vehicle to the father, who notified police.

Motorcycle Officer Robert Rice issued a summons to the driver. Rice said apparently the car which hit the child had just brushed past her, knocking her down.

Local Cars Reported

Three cases of larceny from autos totaling $26 were reported to police Wednesday evening.

Walter R. Meier of 1945 L said that while his car was parked at Twentieth and L Tuesday night someone removed a pair of $15 fender skirts.

The second theft was reported by E. G. Bryan of 415 North Thirty-first, who said someone had removed the $5 battery from his car.

Mrs. Boyd C. Biggs of 2917 North Fifty-second told police that while her car was parked on Madison and St. Paul on Fifth Wednesday evening, a prowler took a package containing four toilet floats valued at $6.

Charles Reed
Not Candidate
For Governor

OMAHA — (AP) — Charles S. Reed, Omaha attorney, and well-known republican, announced Wednesday night that he would not be a candidate for the GOP nomination for governor.

Reed's decision was announced in a letter to Charles F. Adams, Aurora attorney, who wrote asking the Omahan what his plans were for the forthcoming election.

"While I appreciate the honor of the office with its opportunity to serve Nebraska," Reed said, "personal circumstances require me to continue the law practice here in Omaha."

"However, I am going to continue working in party ranks alongside you and all other loyal republicans. As in previous years, I shall be a candidate for delegate at large to the 1952 national republican convention," Reed said.

N.U. Corn Will
Mature If Frost
Holds Off A Week

All of the corn in the University of Nebraska test plots at the college of agriculture will be mature if killing frosts hold off until Sept. 20, Dr. John Lonnquist said Wednesday.

Dr. Lonnquist is in charge of corn breeding investigations at the college. Planting dates ranged from early May to June 1. The earliest planted corn, Dr. Lonnquist said, already is mature.

After an extensive survey in the state, the corn breeder said, he figures that if frost holds off until Oct. 10-15 most of the corn will be mature. In the panhandle area, he reported, only a small amount of the corn was starting to dent last week. A late spring freeze set corn back in that area. At the opposite end of the state—in the Tekamah area—much of the corn was just starting to dent.

Eagles Club Here Urges Retaliation For Case Of Oatis

Lincoln Aerie No. 147 of the Fraternal Order of Eagles Thursday had urged that all soviet and satellite nation correspondents be barred from dealing with the U.S. government until Czechoslovakia releases Associated Press Correspondent William N. Oatis.

The Aerie's resolution was forwarded to Nebraska's Senators Wherry and Butler and Congressman Curtis.

The Aerie's resolution, passed after the Eagles' national convention had adopted a similar one, read in part that communist correspondents be barred from press conferences "where vital information may be revealed."

Oatis was sentenced to 10 years in prison on a charge of espionage.

Rehearing Asked On Delivery Suspension

Petition for rehearing of the Railway Express Agency's suspension of pick-up and delivery service in north Omaha was filed with the railway commission Wednesday.

Sen. George Syas said the petition bore 700 signatures. Syas was accompanied by Earl Grantham, until recently president of the Men's Club of Florence, and Fred Snyder, a club member.

Marshall Calls It A Day

In mid-April last, General George C. Marshall, serving in the civilian post of secretary of defense, was concluding an address to assembled editors in Washington. The man was an inspiring figure. Back of him was a glowing record as chief of staff throughout the war years when, up early with the birds, he remained at his desk burning the midnight oil to whip millions of young Americans into a compact fighting force. He was then eligible for retirement. Then after a brief release from the crushing pressures of that job, he was back in the harness as secretary of state, and earlier was assigned to a special mission in China.

George Marshall has typified the best traditions of America for hard work and conscientious service.

On the particular occasion of filling a speaking engagement before the American Society of Newspaper Editors, something of General Marshall's warming humanness came in those closing sentences. He had talked without the benefit of manuscript or notes, so thoroughly steeped in his subject, and so completely its master that he needed no reminders. He paused to pay tribute to an old friend and another great American, a republican patriarch, the late Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg. It was an off-the-record speech, and so his words cannot be reproduced, but it was one of the most stirring tributes any man can pay to another. And it gave complete understanding of the spirit which dominated Senator Vandenberg during the closing years of his life, a spirit that made it possible for Senator Vandenberg to attain a stature no other member of the senate enjoyed in those closing war years and throughout the post-war era. Vandenberg in a very large sense through the influence that he exerted upon his own party associates, was the author of bi-partisan foreign policy. When Senator Vandenberg no longer could fill his seat because of health conditions, confusion and dissension put in their appearance.

Marshall and Vandenberg were a fine team. They could rise above party lines to meet the challenge of our times. They were a splendid example of the new burdens of American citizenship. Now General Marshall is relinquishing the post of secretary of defense for a well-earned rest. He has served his country magnificently. His countrymen in the mounting storm of partisanship should be able to recognize the qualities of General Marshall, unselfish, simple in speech and habits, devoted to his country, thoroughly a public-spirited American to his fingertips. He has had a soft answer for his harsh critics and gone serenely on his way. It takes a bigness to live that kind of a life. And with the thoroughness characteristic of him, there is a well-trained, capable man, Deputy Secretary Robert A. Lovett, to step into his shoes.

It is not necessary to praise General Marshall because he happens to be a member of the cabinet of a democratic administration, or a great soldier for many years. He is entitled to his country's appreciation simply for the man that he really is. And may the day never be clouded with such an ugly spirit of partisanship that no longer can men be given credit for the good they do.

So Time Is Running Out?

On the way to dinner Tuesday night, a young "fella" with fuzz on his chin, and obviously full of beans and cool ideas, swung the corner on two wheels and cut in in order to get someplace in a hurry. Back at the office, the first item of business had to do with the complaint of a Bethany resident against what he said was "reckless driving by teen-agers in northeast Lincoln." There, it appeared from his story, the youngsters were undertaking to turn corners on two wheels, while traveling at high speed.

It may be good fun, exciting, but it is also dangerous—very dangerous. A great deal of it takes place late in the evening or well into the night. Several months ago there was a complaint to the editor from southeast Lincoln that four or five cars of youngsters staged races night after night, driving at furious speed in a section of Lincoln where the curving streets invited an accident. Fortunately, although the fact that Lady Luck was riding with them, her presence did not mitigate their offense. Sheer luck will not prevent someone, generally innocent people, from being killed or painfully hurt. It is not an easy job under the most favorable conditions to police the streets of Lincoln thoroughly. And this business of being on the spot when examples of flagrant traffic violations occur is to some extent a matter of chance.

But the concern of these people in Bethany should have the attention of the police. It is these outlying boulevards that seem to tempt thoughtless youngsters. A few traffic charges, along with stiff penalties, might take a lot of the fun out of it.

Lincoln's distances are not so great as to make fast driving necessary. We are quite sure that few are the occasions when speed is justified, either in the cases of adults or youngsters.

Tough On Papa Chadwick

There used to be a bit of Americana in a setting of a stern father taking little Tommy to the woodshed with this introduction:

"This is going to hurt me more than it hurts you."

Our heart is overflowing with sympathy for "Daddy" Chadwick whose daughter, Florence, a buxom lass of 32, was the first woman to negotiate the swimming of the English channel, its icy waters and its fogs, from the British shore to the French beach. And not only did Miss Chadwick make it but she came close to hanging up a new time record for the 35 miles of fog-hidden, treacherous cross-currents.

But it was tough on "Daddy" Chadwick. The old boy, nearby in a boat, swallowing pills for a heart ailment, was literally worn to a frazzle when it was all over. He may have thought he was limp when Florence was born, but little did he realize then that 32 years later he would be done under.

We'll let you in on a little secret. Dads are that way.

Is It Old King Corn?

There was good news, with a string tied to it, in the September estimate for Nebraska's 1951 corn crop. The federal-state crop statistician, A. E. Anderson, a cautious, capable man, who knows his soil and his grains, and devotes all his thoughts to them, hoisted Nebraska's prospects by 7 million bushels over a month ago.

The net result would be one of Nebraska's better corn crops, the eighteenth largest in the state's 83-year-old history. The string consisted of a little co-operation from Jack Frost. Sun and warm weather are needed.

Back in the horse-and-buggy days, remember and long for them, it was a good custom to salute every shock of corn and extol each stalk as king.

There has been a great change come over this state, greater than a busy people realize. The horse-and-buggy days saw Nebraska largely dependent upon three grain crops—corn, wheat and oats, in the order of importance. Now we have a diversified agricultural program, supplemented by a lot more sources of income, contributing infinitely to farm stability. And we have irrigation as a busy little helper in those years when moisture is short. Among those changes has been the amazing growth of dairying, the foundation of which rests upon blooded stock, poultry raising, the production of sugar beets, beans, and potatoes on a big scale, and finally the development of commercial fruit orchards.

It will not be long before Nebraska observes one hundred years of statehood. And when that time arrives, there will be a milepost for every progressive step which has contributed to the glory of the countryside.

Baseball In Lincoln

The Lincoln Athletics, battered, bruised and bewildered, have wound up an unsuccessful baseball season. They do not have much to be happy about—a last-place finish, pitiful attendance and very little interest in their efforts—but the players are the last individuals in the world to blame for an unfortunate 1951 season in Lincoln.

The parent club, Philadelphia, did almost nothing to help its farm team. At one time Manager Frank Skaff, who has done as well as anyone could be expected under the circumstances, had a left fielder at third base, a third baseman at shortstop, a catcher at second base, a pitcher at first base, and no one to pinch-hit when an emergency arose. Calls for help to Philadelphia availed almost nothing—a class D outfielder was sent when the team lost its regular rightfielder.

But at the same time, there was a decided lack of imagination on the part of those responsible for promoting the team.

For instance, the Denver Bears in one week had a "Town Mayors Night" honoring mayors from Northern Colorado towns. The following night there was a special show on behalf of the "Crusade for Freedom" campaign. The next evening there was a "Fan Appreciation Night." There has been something like this in Denver—and in other cities of the league—going on all season, but aside from two road-show performances which were put on at Sherman field, the A's fans had no special inducement to get out to the park. And Denver gave to its 400,000th fan, who passed through the turnstiles last week, a season pass for 1952 and free concession privileges for the night. Lincoln on the other hand, never celebrated the arrival of the 40,000th fan at its park this season.

Perhaps the baseball fans should be blamed, too, but there is something to the old saying that a good show never lacks patrons, and Lincolnites hardly were offered a good show this year.

'Lucky To Win One'

Bill Glasford, genial mentor of our Cornhuskers, has the crying towel sogging wet again this year, but a lot of observers expect Bobby Reynolds and his mates to wring it dry before the season ends.

Washington Merry-Go-Round Ike Will Run As Demo If Taft Gets GOP Nod

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—There's something awfully peculiar about the way the senate refuses to investigate graft in the sale of American war supplies to nationalist China, and the manner in which some of these supplies went to communist China.

This graft and the part played by the China lobby was exposed in this column three months ago, including huge fortunes made by Chiang Kai-shek's relatives in selling tin to the communists, and a phony gasoline deal attempted by the nationalist air force.

Furthermore, Sen. Lyndon "Lying-Down" Johnson's investigating committee has had some of these facts for months. But in keeping with his Texas nickname, he laid down on the job.

Meanwhile, here are more facts showing how an American admiral persuaded General MacArthur's headquarters to release 62,000 rounds of navy shells one month after the Korean war started—with a lush profit paid to S. G. Fassoulis and Miran Aprahamian, the 5 percenters for the China lobby.

Fassoulis and Aprahamian, heads of the Commerce International corporation, had hired Adm. Charles M. Cooke, jr., together with 10 other retired American officers who are stationed on Formosa, in the dual capacity of advisers to Fassoulis and Aprahamian as well as advisers to Chiang Kai-shek. They include Gen. R. L. Peterson, Cooke's son-in-law, Maj. C. F. Field, and did include Marine Gen. O. T. Pfeiffer and Adm. H. L. Grosskopf, all retired. The latter two have now withdrawn.

One month after the Korean war started, and when the U. S. navy needed to conserve all its ammunition, Admiral Cooke induced MacArthur's headquarters to sell 22,000 rounds of three-inch navy shells plus 40,000 rounds of 20-mm. shells and 40-mm. shells. The story given out at the time was that shells were scrap, about to be dumped into the sea. This, however, was not true. The price paid for the three-inch shells was $3 each—a bargain basement rate, because the original list surplus price was $36 each.

But the interesting thing is that Fassoulis and Aprahamian got a 12 per cent commission on the deal.

Significant also is the fact that it was the U. S. navy, not the Chinese navy, which was guarding Formosa at the time. In view of the long transport across the Pacific, therefore, it was the U. S. navy, not the Chinese, who stood to need reserve ammunition.

S. G. Fassoulis, when queried by this column, admitted the facts but claimed the shells were defective.

NOTE—Admiral Cooke is the

Washington Calling Paul Hoffman Works Toward A New World

By MARQUIS CHILDS

PASADENA, Cal.—In the last 75 years American philanthropists have given away billions of dollars for libraries, hospitals, colleges, laboratories in every part of the world. But the Ford foundation tops them all, both in scale and in concept.

Here is an accumulation of a half-billion or more that will produce thirty to forty million dollars a year and the idea is to spend this income as intelligently as possible so that it will promote peace and freedom in a world torn by war and threatened by totalitarianism. Some of the best brains in the country have been enrolled to make sure that this philanthropy contributes to these ends and not, as sometimes has happened in the past, to solve one problem only to create two others.

Still another reason the Ford foundation is unique is its director. A prescription covering what we usually think of as the highest qualities in American life would add up to someone very like Paul Hoffman.

He is a doer. He has been an important part of the motorcar industry, which is the most dynamic sector of America's competitive system. He took a critical and pioneering government assignment as head of the Economic Cooperation Administration and did a superb job.

Now he has tackled the task of making over the world with the same cheerful yet earnest conviction that has characterized him throughout his career. There is nothing in the least arrogant or presumptuous in this. He believes that mankind through faith and reason and the techniques of modern science can avert the disaster seeming to hover darkly in the air, and move eventually into an era of peace and goodwill.

You cannot talk with Hoffman long without catching something of this hope and enthusiasm. Recently completing a trip around the world, he talks about some of the projects being worked up for the foundation with full realization of the dire plight of a large part of the human race.

For India the plan is to start a series of demonstration farm plots in various parts of the country showing how by improving methods of cultivation only slightly and by comparatively simple means the yield per acre can be doubled. The yield today is abysmally low. Indians are to be trained to carry out this demonstration on an ever-widening scale. One or two earlier experiments have shown that the dem-officer who, while commander of U. S. naval forces in the western Pacific at the end of the war, used an LST boat to transport his auto to Shanghai to sell it on the black market. Naval enlisted men in Shanghai at that time were being jailed for selling cigarettes on the black market.

—WASHINGTON PIPELINE—

General Ike has told friends confidentially that he would run as a democrat if Taft gets the GOP nomination. He regards Taft's fight-China-now policy as disastrous and his election as a "catastrophe."

If Taft is nominated, Ike may not get the chance to be a democrat. Truman's friends are pulling every wire to get Taft the GOP nod, say their man is itching to take Taft on. . . . Willy Senator Brewster of Maine, Taft's chief strategist, has a plan to nullify Eisenhower. He would send Taft to Europe, stage a conference with Eisenhower, then announce that Taft would follow any European policy the general proposed. . . . Chancellor Adenauer of west Germany is smarting under the reply given him when he asked to make a trip to see Truman. The White House answer: "Too busy." . . . The American embassy in Moscow cables that Foreign Minister Vishinsky is virtually out, hasn't been seen around the foreign office for weeks. Andrei Gromyko, the sallow diplomat of San Francisco, is now running the foreign office. (He's close to Stalin, too.)

—INSIDE BASEBALL—

Happy Chandler's job of baseball commissioner has been peddled to a whole row of big names—J. Edgar Hoover, General MacArthur, Gen. Emmett "Rosie" O'Donnell of the air force. All turned it down. . . . Jim Farley was proposed by the New York Yankees, but rejected on the first ballot at a closed-door caucus of the ball-team owners. . . . So was George Trautman of the minor leagues. . . . One handicap against Ohio's Gov. Frank Lausche was the backstage wire-pulling of Sen. John Bricker who doesn't want Lausche running against him for the senate next year. This didn't help Lausche much. His best backer, incidentally, was John Galbreath, president of the Pittsburgh Pirates and a real-estate partner of Bricker's. (Lausche asked for a 10-year contract, instead of the seven years given to Happy Chandler. . . . Real trouble in selecting a baseball czar has been that the club owners wanted a "front" more than they wanted a two-fisted cleaner-up of baseball ills—namely, the eastern monopoly and the serflike draft of minor-league players.

By LADD DURYEA

No. 92
Of A Series

I ENJOY my work very much. In fact I live it."

Thus does G. P. Henson, 1735 Pepper avenue, explain why he spends an average of 16 hours a day at his job as Lincoln superintendent of terminals for the Burlington railroad.

In that capacity he has charge of all Burlington facilities in Lincoln and Havelock except the shops. He is in charge of receiving all incoming freight and passenger trains and of making up all trains leaving Lincoln.

Each day, he said, about 4,600 freight cars are handled by the local yards. During the stock season, which started about the first of September and will end sometime in November, he estimated that between 400 and 500 cars of cattle and sheep from Nebraska, Wyoming and Montana go through daily on their way to Omaha, Kansas City and Chicago.

ABOUT 24 freight trains and 24 passenger trains come into Lincoln each day, he said, and many of them must be broken up and formed into new trains. Most of the work is done on the "gravity hump" west of Lincoln. This hump was the first such railroad facility built west of the Mississippi and is still one of few humps in the western United States.

The hump, put into full operation in July, 1945, is an artificial hill. Trains to be broken up are packed slowly over it. Just as each car or group of cars destined for the same city and carrying the same load is backed over the crest, it is cut loose from the rest of the train.

As the car coasts down a "retarder operator" in a tower electrically switches it to one of 36 different tracks.

The speed of the car is held down by three retarders through which each car must pass. These retarders are compressed air mechanisms controlled by the operators in the tower. They slow the car down by pressing metal shoes against the sides of the wheels.

THE CARS are distributed on the 36 tracks according to destination and content, Mr. Henson explained. For instance, all cars carrying cement bound for Denver are switched onto one track and coupled together. They later will be formed into a train with other Denver bound cars. Cars are also arranged, he said, so those to be left at each stop are grouped together.

Mr. Henson has been working for the Burlington for 27 years, but has held his present position only two years. Except for 21 months he worked in Omaha with Burlington, he has been in Lincoln since 1943.

Reckless Joy-Riding

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I was very interested in your Wednesday morning front-page story about the protest of parents on what seems to be reckless and uncalled-for joyriding in northeast Lincoln. I wish to add my sincere backing to these justified protests, and verify the facts presented as completely true. I lived in that particular part of town for three or four years, and have since moved, but I still well remember the regular evening traffic violations that saw young people in their fathers' cars racing up and down at speeds more nearly approaching 60 miles an hour than the regulation limits there. The tragic part of situations like this is that a child or adult must be killed or seriously injured before anything is done about it. I'd like to see some action now!

Teaching True Meaning

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I am wondering if I can find words to picture the story which I wish to bring to each true American. The other day as I passed a home, I saw two small children at play. A little ways from them were some battered toys which they had thrown down, and with these, all trampled, torn and dirty lying on the ground, was our flag. It was in a depressing condition. I cannot blame these little tots, but I do blame their elders. I picked up the flag, carried it to the door, rang the bell, and knocked very loudly, but no one came to answer although the inside door stood open. I brought the flag home with me, trying to decide what to do with it or about it, and decided to write this letter.

I suggest that if parents are going to give a child our flag to play with, they teach the child the respect with which it is to be handled, tell them the story of its creation, what each star and stripe stands for, and why it is red, white and blue. It can be told so even the smallest child will enjoy it. And the parents can help the youngsters secure it onto their tricycles, wagons and bikes so it cannot possibly touch the ground.

Too little is said these days about our flag and so many places display flags in sad condition, even the government buildings, and we know they are furnished better ones by Uncle Sam. I wonder how many downtown business places have flags incorrectly displayed—or even own one. Let's start living and thinking about some of these things to help build better citizens from the cradle on up.

Americanism Defined

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The essence of our form of government is the liberty of the individual. Our bill of rights protects individuals and is a fundamental part of our national constitution. Real Americanism means that we protect freedom of speech and defend our rights to say what we think. Real Americanism means freedom of religion. Yes, real Americanism means that none of our citizens shall be held back by unfair discrimination or prejudice. It means fair play and that anyone accused of a crime shall be considered innocent until proven guilty. Our national constitution does not protect free speech to the extent of permitting conspiracies to overthrow our government. Yes, real Americanism includes these things and it

Nebred Highest Yielding Wheat Southeast Area

The University of Nebraska has reported on its winter wheat tests and on those of barley.

The winter wheat tests revealed that in the southeast district Nebraska was again the highest yielding variety, in the south central a Cheyenne-turkey cross was best; in the southwest Nebraska was tops and in the west Cheyenne did the best.

There were no wheat tests this year in the east central district.

Winter killing of barley was severe and only two of the five tests plots were harvested. In these Dikto and selection 412490 showed the best. However, neither variety is available commercially at present. The university said Reno and Ward produced practically nothing either in 1950 or 1951.

Circular Available

But without winter killing in other years Reno and Ward have produced better yields than have the more hardy varieties being tested.

The school has compiled a circular now available at county agents offices on the tests.

Reporting on a hay test series, the university said the crude protein content of the hays decreased with later cuttings and the phosphorus content followed the same trend in two of three years of tests.

The hay was cut early, in mid-season and late in conducting the experiments.

In feeding tests the university found that as the maturity of the grass from which the hay was made increased the amount consumed by the growing calves decreased, a larger proportion of the hay was refused by the calves and the calculated intake of nutrients from the hays, especially of crude protein and phosphorus decreased.

Curtis Attacks Housing Plan

NORTHEAST HARBOR, Me.—(AP)—Socialized housing is not the answer to the need for more homes in the United States, Rep. Carl Curtis (R-Neb.) said Wednesday night.

The Nebraska congressman addressed the Maine League of Loan and Building associations which is in convention here.

"Socialism has never built a great production system in any nation that single-handed saved the world in time of war," he said.

Curtis explained "government competition in the field of housing would lower the income of home owners and materially reduce the sale value of their only asset."

"Is that fair competition?" he asked.

"Many aged," Curtis continued, "provided themselves with a degree of financial independence in their old age by selling or renting their home."

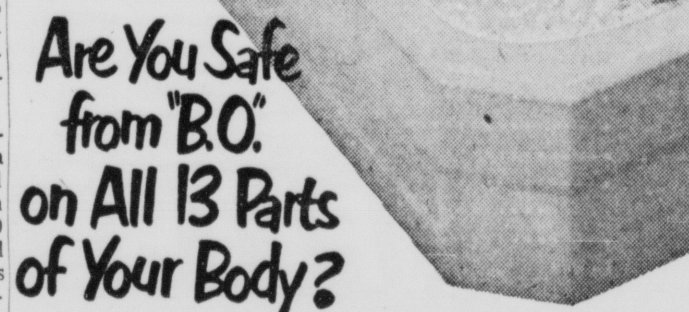

"What protection does socialized housing offer these people?" he questioned.

"I say give private housing an opportunity to produce and it will do the job of finding homes for Americans. But it can't accomplish the task in competition with the federal government," Curtis added.

Three Nebraska City tavern operators have been cited to appear before the state liquor commission next Tuesday to show cause why their licenses should not be revoked. All are charged with sales to minors.

Those cited are: Ralph Murray, Central Bar, Inc., and John J. Behn.

General Marshall Is Retiring To Quiet Of His Virginia Home

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman boosted Robert A. Lovett into the job of defense secretary Wednesday after George C. Marshall resigned to seek once more a quiet retirement at his Leesburg, Va., home.

In congress, there was immediate praise of Lovett's appointment with some republican senators saying they were happy to see a civilian returned to the top control of the huge military establishment.

The senate is expected to give quick approval to Lovett's nomination.

Marshall said he resigned for "very personal reasons" and after an understanding with Mr. Truman that his services at the pentagon were to be only temporary. He was appointed secretary exactly one year ago.

Great Reluctance

President Truman accepted the resignation "with great reluctance" and told the 70-year-old five-star general in a letter "no man has given his country more distinguished and patriotic service than have you... You have earned your retirement many fold and I wish you many good years at Leesburg."

Both republicans and democrats in congress appeared happy over the Lovett appointment. He is a 56-year-old former New York investment banker who first came into the government in 1940 as assistant secretary of war.

He had the job of boosting bomber production from three or four a month up to 1,000 a month. It appeared an impossible task—but he did it.

Back In Washington

Lovett left the war department in 1945 to return to the New York banking firm of Brown Brothers, Harriman and Co. But within two years he was back in Washington as undersecretary of state. He resigned again, in 1949, but last year at Marshall's request he took the post of deputy secretary of defense.

Lovett is a tall, lean, bald man with an easy air of friendliness about him to cloak his hard-driving ability as an administrator. He is expected to get along well with congress where he has won many friends during his 10 years of government service.

But, like Marshall, he has had a hard time retiring from government work.

This is the third time since World War II that Marshall has tried to retire to the quiet and peace of his home at Leesburg, Va. But twice he has been recalled to government service and he told Mr. Truman that if necessary he will come out of retirement temporarily again in the future.

Red Mouthpiece Is Assassinated

LONDON—(INS)—The Warsaw radio disclosed Wednesday that Stefan Martyka, one of Poland's top communist propagandists in the word warfare with the west, was assassinated Monday.

Lovett is a former New York investment banker who has won many friends in congress during a 10-year hitch in government service. He has been assistant secretary of war, undersecretary of state, and Marshall's deputy in the defense department.

Some republicans said they were glad to see the top defense job returned to a man who is not a military figure.

Major Firms Not Taking Part In Gas Price Cuts

Regional managers of major oil companies in Lincoln said Wednesday they had nothing to do with price-cutting by some filling stations in the outlying areas.

The potential gasoline war, developing over a period of time in stations on the fringe of Lincoln along the major highways, especially Highway 6 out to Omaha, has seen prices drop to as low as 21.9 cents per gallon on regular gas. Ethyl gas prices have ranged from 23 to 25 cents.

One regional manager of a major firm said any price-cutting would be strictly up to individual retailers and was not primarily a concern of the company.

Shelton To Manage Falls City Chamber

FALLS CITY, Neb. — Bruce Shelton has been named manager of the Falls City chamber of commerce.

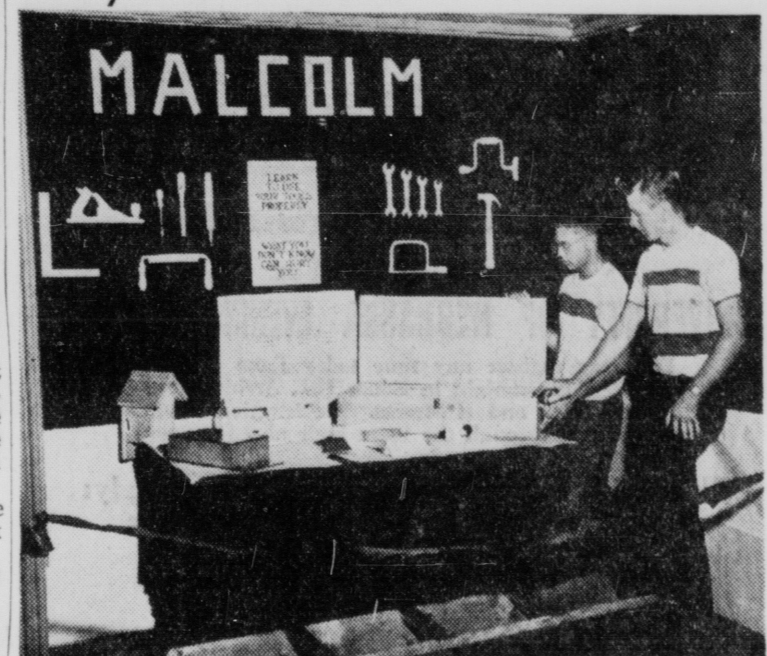

A Falls City resident since 1949, he formerly managed local movie theaters. He succeeds J. J. "Jug" Brown in the chamber post.

However, hospital attendants said he was "holding his own."

The bulldozer was pushing dirt off the edge of a 30-foot embankment when it slipped over the edge. Smith and Little were among five men tramping earth below.

The incident took place on the Keiser farm between Guide Rock and Bostwick.

The correct use and care of tools will make them friends for life. That belief plays an important part in the 4-H club training of members of the Malcolm Juniors who are taking farm shop projects. The Malcolm Juniors live in the Malcolm, Pleasant Dale and Route 6, Lincoln, areas.

The 4-H club members who go by the name of The Malcolm Juniors carry soil conservation and dairy projects, as well as farm shop, to become one of Lancaster county's most versatile 4-H clubs.

A father-son leadership team is also a feature. Don Perry of Mal-

U.S. Agriculture Department Seeking Suggestions

Lancaster To Offer Criticism

BY HOMER FINE
(Farm Editor, The Star)

The department of agriculture's nationwide sampling of grass roots opinion on activities carried on by 12 departmental agencies gets underway in Lancaster county Thursday with a preliminary meeting of the county mobilization committee.

Farmers in agricultural counties throughout the country, meanwhile, are being asked to offer criticism and suggestions for improving the agriculture department. The plan, called the Family Farm Policy Review, is being carried out under county and state mobilization committees, made up of heads of the 12 agencies.

The basic idea, according to letters sent out by Undersecretary C. J. McCormick of the department of agriculture, is to get the thinking of everyone in the country interested in agriculture about how the farm programs and policies can be improved.

County agricultural mobilization committees are to hold public meetings to sample the opinion on activities of the dozen agricultural agencies working on the county level. Information collected is to be sent to be summarized on the state level and transmitted to Secretary of Agriculture Brannan by the first part of October.

On the state level, the review

Bowles New India Envoy

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Ches- ter Bowles, wartime price chief, was nominated ambassador to India Wednesday in a shift involving two key diplomatic posts.

President Truman, in making the nomination, also accepted the long-pending resignation of Henry F. Grady, ambassador to Iran.

The present envoy to India, Loy W. Henderson, was se- lected to replace Grady at Tehran.

Grady, 69, originally asked re- tirement from active diplomatic duty in early summer. He agreed to remain at Tehran until this month because of the Iranian oil crisis.

The 59-year-old Henderson, a career foreign service officer, was assigned to remain because of a reputation as a tough negotiator.

Bowles, 50, lost his race for a second term as Connecticut Governor last November. He served as price administrator under President Roosevelt during the latter years of World War II. Pres- ident Truman named him director of economic stabilization in 1946.

Bowles was a member of the State Water Group, which was set up to study the water resources of the world.

The committee will be accom- panied by two representatives of the soil conservation service, Chancellor R. G. Gustavson of the University of Nebraska and Sen. Dwight Burney of Hartington, chairman of the council.

Friday afternoon the committee will hold an open meeting in the legislative chamber. Sen. John McKnight, Auburn, is chairman of the committee.

The committee will be accom- panied by two representatives of the soil conservation service, Chancellor R. G. Gustavson of the University of Nebraska and Sen. Dwight Burney of Hartington, chairman of the council.

Dog Inherits Estate

PERTH—(AP)—A 79-year-old blind man, whose dog had led him about for the greater part of his life, has left his estate for the up- keep of the animal until he dies.

"For many years I have been totally blind and Toby has been a faithful companion to me," How- ard Hope Hills wrote in his will.

Ten-year-old Toby has now been provided with enough money per week for his expensive tastes in rump steak, crayfish, pies and cakes.

Assembly, Chosen From Symphony Association Will Assist Board In An Advisory Capacity

In order that the community needs in music may best be served, the executive board of the Lincoln Symphony association has elected forty-four members from the association to serve as an assembly with two-fold duties. First: the assembly will serve as an advisory council to the symphony's board of directors; second: it is to assist the association's various committees in their work, and also to directly aid the board in determining what community needs it should stress.

The first meeting of the assembly with the Lincoln Symphony board was held Wednesday evening, a scant few weeks before the Lincoln Symphony opens its silver anniversary season, at the home of Mrs. David Hilton. Dr. Marshall Neely, the symphony association president, welcomed the new assembly members and explained to them the work and the problems of the board. Dr. Neely then introduced Del Leinemann, the new business manager recently named to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Ted Butterfield.

Following Dr. Neely's talk, Mrs. Richard Smith, chairman of the symphony's program committee, outlined the organization of the assembly and discussed its purpose, after which each committee chairman spoke briefly on the duties of the respective committees.

Following the business meeting the members of the assembly and the board were invited into the dining room where the refreshment table was arranged with autumn blossoms. Presiding at the serving table during the coffee hour were Mrs. James E. Lawrence and Mrs. Phil Sides, both members of the Lincoln Symphony board.

Serving as a committee for the organization of the assembly were Mrs. Ellery Davis, chairman; Mrs. Joseph Silverman; Mrs. Richard Smith, and Mrs. Hiram Hilton.

The symphony board committees to be assisted by members of the newly elected assembly include the artists' committee, headed by Mrs. James Blackman; children's concerts, of which Mrs. Lawrence Lindgren is chairman; contributions, Fred Seacrest; finance, Louis Babst; membership, Mrs. E. Sheldon Hallett; program, Mrs. Richard Smith; publicity, Mrs. Hiram Hilton; and special events, Mrs. Ellery Davis.

Assigned to the committees for which their capabilities will be best suited will be the following new members of the Lincoln Symphony assembly:

James Ackerman, Mrs. John Ames, Mrs. John Angle, Mrs. DeWitt Barber, Miss Elva Baxer, Mrs. Oliver Brown, Mrs. John Chalmers, Mrs. Kenneth B. Clark, Mrs. Robert Cohen, Mrs. Cecil Fraizer, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Gilbert, Miss Nelle Greer, Mrs. J. Taylor Greer, Mrs. Wendell Groth, Miss Ruth Haberle, David Haecker, Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Stuart, Mrs. Ted Sick, Mrs. Hazel Smith, Gene H. Tallman, Mrs. Vernon Thompson, Mrs. Vance Trap-hagen, Mrs. Robert Wekesser, Miss Elizabeth Wright, Mrs. Burnham Yates and Mrs. Glenn Yaussi.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour, checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Turpin Falls To Savage 10th Round Attack By Ray

Robinson Regains Middle Title As Briton Is Victim Of TKO

BY JACK HAND

NEW YORK—(AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, suddenly turned killer by blood streaming from his left eye, won back his world middleweight title from Britain's Randy Turpin Wednesday night on a technical knockout with a violent attack that forced Referee Ruby Goldstein to stop the fight at 2:52 of the tenth round.

Unleashing the full fury of his bombs after the sturdy Briton opened the gash over his left eye, the sleek Harlem Sugar Ray shot the works in one furious burst that yanked to its feet the sellout crowd of over 65,000 at the Polo Grounds.

One thunderous right to the head, coming out of a flurry of blows, caved Turpin's trick defense. Down went the 23-year-old Negro on his back. Taking full advantage of the count he scraped himself off the deck at nine.

But Robinson, who lost his 160-pound crown in a tremendous upset in London July 10, was not to be denied. Pinning Turpin against the ropes with the fury of his drive, he rained blow after blow at the reeling champion.

This was a different Robinson than the lack-luster man who back-pedaled from Turpin's bullyboy tactics at London. Three pounds heavier at 157½, Robinson was punching with more power than last time when he never stunned the courageous Briton. Turpin weighed 159.

In the second round, a solid right to the jaw sent Turpin into his squat and his knees almost touched the floor. Again in the third, a left hook and a right combination shook up the valiant scrapper who carried the hopes of the tight little isle into this dramatic international contest.

Turpin had shaken off the effect of these blows and was coming on in the eighth and ninth. Then he made the fatal mistake of opening the gash over Robinson's eye.

With the gore streaking down his face, Sugar Ray turned wild man. He knew he had to do it then or never.

As Sugar Ray pinned his man on the ropes and whanged away, his wife, Edna Mae, rose from a

Strong Turpin Declares Fight Should Not Have Been Stopped

NEW YORK—(AP)—"The referee should not have stopped it," Randy Turpin said in his dressing room after losing the world's middleweight crown to Sugar Ray Robinson by a technical knockout.

Turpin, smiling and calm when he came into his quarters, laughed out loud when a reporter asked him if he was out on his feet in the spectacular tenth round when Robinson floored him.

"I was perfectly keen," the British bulldog said. "There were only eight seconds to go in the round and I was covering up. The doctor will confirm that."

Turpin said he thought he was well ahead going into the tenth. He had opened an ugly cut over Robinson's left eye and both fighters were splattered with blood. They both unleashed all their guns at the same time.

Beechner, Debus To Captain Links Against Eagles Friday

BY WAYNE PANTER

(Star Sports Staff Member)
COACH BILL PFEIFF named a pair of veteran Links gridders Wednesday night to shoulder co-captain duties for the Red and Black's opening tussle of the season against Omaha Central at the Oval Friday night.

Center-Linebacker Dick Beechner and Fullback Bill Debus will lead a lineup consisting of at least nine lettermen against their Missouri Valley conference foes.

Pfeiff was in doubt as to his opening backs Friday following a gym-class accident involving

Rockets Tomorrow
Coach Bun Galloway of the defending State Champion Northeast Rockets has announced that he will release his starting lineup and traveling squad Friday morning. Game captains will also be announced at that time.

Quarterback Don Sladek. The extent of Sladek's injury was not known, but it was thought that he would be among the starters at kickoff time Friday night.

MAC POSSIBILITY
Dick McWilliams, non-letterman junior, was a likely choice to take over in place of Sladek. The other backfield spots will be filled by Halfbacks Bob Northrup and Ted King, with Bill Debus filling the tailback slot.

The line will have LeRoy Butcherus and Bob Barnett at the ends, Ken Briery and Don Lehl, tackles; Sylvester "T.D." Mendoza and Jack Scanlon, guards; with Beechner at center.

Parmett, 5-11, 158-pound junior who came up off the reserves to turn in a stellar job in the 1950 season, finished Grand Island, is the only non-letterman in the line. Kansas from Briery's hawk and well-knit 205 pounds down to the 135-pound Scanlon, the Links' forward wall will average a shade over 165 pounds.

With Sladek in the lineup, the backs will average slightly under 160 pounds per man. King, the lightest, weighs at an even 150; top weight is that of Debus, at 181.

Scrimmage Called Off As New Injury Wave Hits Cornhuskers

BY NORRIS ANDERSON

(Sports Editor, The Star)
CURTIS, Neb.—A new wave of injuries Wednesday engulfed the University of Nebraska football camp forcing Coach J. William Glassford to call off a scheduled game scrimmage.

No less than 18 men on the squad of 66 were nursing serious wounds. Nine of the total will not be available until the Huskers' final game scrimmage Saturday afternoon.

The list of nine includes halfback Dick Westin, tackles Harvey Goth, Dick Goll and Jerry Minnick, center Bob Oberlin, fullback Bob Russell, guard Don Glantz and end Pat Lee.

"We can hardly muster enough men right now for a good fight," groaned Glassford, adding that he hasn't decided whether he would stage a game.

"In the meantime, all we can do is keep on working fundamentals," he said, adding, "The wet weather and all of these injuries have forced us far behind schedule."

He said that some of the work on fundamentals had "been caught up" in the last three days. But the squad badly needed more scrimmages under game conditions.

CATCHING UP
"Our only salvation is that we get good weather when we get back to Lincoln," he said.

In between the gloom, the Husker master paused to compliment the improved end play of Frank Simon, Burchard senior, and George Paynich, Des Plaines, Ill., junior. He praised the pair's blocking and pass snagging progress.

Paynich, who never played high school football and became acquainted with the game during his army days, has come along especially fast. Glassford said one of the Illinois lad's fierce blocks sent soph halfback Niel Hoppens flying 16 feet the other direction.

Bobby Decker, Omaha Holy Name sophomore, will definitely do all of the Huskers' placement booting this fall, Glassford said. In a recent practice session, Decker booted 25 straight.

He replaces All-American Bobby Reynolds, who did all of the extra point booting last fall.

Simon, halfback Tom Carodine and Oberlin will do the kicking.

CV TILT AT 2:30
Coach Tom Gillaspie's College View grid squad will travel to Lincoln for an afternoon encounter. Game time is 2:30.

Northeast Reserves Tied 0-0 By Seward
The Northeast reserves battled the Seward reserves to a 0-0 deadlock at the Rocket field, Wednesday afternoon, in the first bit of regulation grid action in the capital city this year.

Coach Bun Galloway of the seconds praised the running of sophomore back Tom Pavey. The Rocket reserves will meet Nebraska City, Sept. 25.

Trouble For The 'Rare Bear'

THIS BEING a democracy, there is nothing so fair as trial by jury.

Now when an occupant of the Fat Men's table here has the audacity to pilfer an extra piece of chicken, the victim must be tried.

Wayne "The Bear" Handshy, 240-pound tackle from Hollywood, Cal., was the culprit. A courtroom was quickly set up to try The Bear.

Halfback Cliff Hopp of Hastings was selected as head judge. Coach Bill Glassford was prosecuting attorney and Fullback Nick Adduci, the private eye from Chicago, acted as defense attorney.

Glassford, a persuasive cuss, was a powerhouse on the stand. He spoke of short wind, rubber tire waistlines and how Texas Christian was nearly upon his poor li'l waifs. Ol' Bo McMillin couldn't have done better.

Adduci, the private eye, pulled from his vast knowledge of courtroom tricks. He based his defense on the fact that The Bear was smart enough to pick on a mere piece of chicken instead of another helping of potatoes. He proved that chicken does not contain starch.

Judge Hopp, however, although admitting Nick had entered a strong plea, leaned toward Glassford. The Bear was sentenced to sing several numbers for the squad and take several extra laps around the track.

When Bear was singing, another squad member was heard to remark: "We're the ones who are really getting punished."

THE BEAR'S case cannot be used as an indicator that the Huskers are not well fed. Aside from occupants of the Fat Men's table, squad members are allowed all they can eat.

Perhaps the biggest consumer in the three-year tenure of Camp Curtis is Dick Goll, the baby-faced junior guard from Tekamah whose appearance belies that he's a tough hombre on the gridiron.

At one separate sitting the other day, young Goll consumed 21 pieces of chicken. According to kitchen attendants here, that is the all time record.

Young Goll, a lanky farm boy, is not a specialist on meat. He's equally adept on potatoes, vegetables and every other item on the menu.

There are no objections to Dick's appetite. He packs only 188 pounds on a six-foot 2-inch frame and has room for more weight.

FROM INDICATIONS here, Sophomore Bobby Decker, Omaha Huskers' placement artist.

Decker has been doing all of the extra point and field goal booting here. He kicks 'em higher than Bobby does and never misses an end-over-end delivery.

Unlike Reynolds' placements, which often were barely within the crosspieces, Decker hits dead center every time.

Reynolds was the point booter last fall for the simple reason he was the top man on the squad at the art. Now that a better one has come along, the All-American is gladly stepping down.

Hull, DuBois To Lead Hobbled Plainsmen

Coach Roy Robertson Wednesday named a pair of senior veteran performers to serve as co-captains for Nebraska Wesleyan University's Friday night opener with Kansas Wesleyan at Salina.

He said Don Hull, Gordon fullback, and Howard DuBois, Lincoln guard, will lead the Plainsmen against the Kansans.

Robertson said he probably will take a squad of 40 men to Salina Friday morning, but that a travel roster would not be posted until after Thursday morning drills.

Injuries to key performers have forced the Wesleyan mentor to make numerous changes in his initial plans for the Coyote tilt.

"I've never had a squad so battered up before an opening game," Robertson said Wednesday. "One thing is certain. Our freshmen will get ample opportunity to show what they have to offer Friday night."

The big problem in the Plainsmen camp Wednesday was who will direct the offensive T in case veteran Hansen Taylor of Springfield, Mo., is unable to run. Taylor still has his left leg encased in a cast with a possible cracked ankle bone and doctors promised a final decision Thursday afternoon.

The Plainsmen suffered another loss in Tuesday's contact drill when Roger Rhodes, Arkansas center, injured his back. Rhodes' injury was listed as painful but not serious, but he will be missing at game time Friday.

Robertson raced the Plainsmen through a light signal drill Wednesday afternoon and scheduled three workouts for Thursday. The Methodist will run through offensive patterns in the morning and afternoon and drill under lights briefly at night.

The squad is slated to leave Lincoln Friday morning by bus. Robbie said his traveling list would be chosen from this list:

ENIS—Jack Lewis, Chapman; Merle McDonald, Murdock; Jim Shaw, Lincoln; Dave Williams, Springfield, Mo.; and Keith Iverson, Haskell.

TACKLES—Bruce Barer, Moline, Ill.; Dick Gentry, Gering; Mack Hunt, Lincoln; Charles Linker, Walker; Don McCosh, Gering; Milton Schmidt, Lincoln; Ervin Unert, Superior and Lewis Walker, Lincoln.

GUARDS—Bob Cecil, Lincoln; Faldade, DuBois, Lincoln; Tom Mawhin, Lincoln; James Naele, Lincoln; Blaine Hieke, Burlington, Ia.; Daley Roman, Syracuse, Mo.; Starker, Lincoln; James Adams, Sutton, Mo.; and Walter Garner, Lincoln. Bob Melander, Lincoln, and Dick Whitaker, Lincoln.

BACKS—Earl Butrick, Springfield, Mo.; Ron Keefe, Wahoo; Tom Kitchen, Dallas, Tex.; Arno Panucci, Moline, Ill.; Hansen Taylor, Springfield, Mo.; Fred Winters, Fairmont; Dick Lewis, Moline, Ill.; Dalton Hansen, Weeping Water; Bill Story, Lincoln; Fred Winters, Western; Lefroy Borders, Mullen; Wendell Carner, Harvard; Roger Foshier, Shelby; Bob Lawson, Dayton; Ted Miller, Fullerton; Bill Allen, Haskell; Don Hull, Gordon; Jim Marie, Lincoln; Jack Muckey, Nelshi and Sanford Nelson, Lincoln.

'After My Eye Got Cut, It Was Do Or Die,' Claims Sugar Ray

NEW YORK — (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson, slashing Middleweight Champion of the World who regained his title from Randolph Turpin with a spectacular knockout Wednesday night, said in a quiet tired voice when it was all over: "After my eye got cut, it was do or die. I didn't want to take any chances with the referee stopping the fight."

Robinson didn't. With blood gushing from the cut over his left eye, he waded into Turpin, floored him for the count of nine, and then caught him on the ropes and belted him without even a shadow of defense until the game Englishman reeled and sagged. "Yes, he hurt me several times, but not in the tenth," said Robinson.

"When the blood started to spurt out I waded in and tried to get it over. I knew I was bleeding badly, but I always felt confident. Still I was afraid the referee might stop the fight and give it to Turpin."

"Was this your best fight ever?" someone asked Robinson.

"You fellows will have to answer that," said the new champion with a broad grin.

"Sure I fought a better fight than I fought in London—it was better because I won."

"Sure I'll fight him again. I'll fight anyone. That's my business."

Robinson didn't. With blood gushing from the cut over his left eye, he waded into Turpin, floored him for the count of nine, and then caught him on the ropes and belted him without even a shadow of defense until the game Englishman reeled and sagged.

"Yes, he hurt me several times, but not in the tenth," said Robinson.

Whip Tigers 2-1; Fox Leads Chisox To Win

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Billy

Pierce scattered six Washington hits in pitching the Chicago White

Sox to a 3-0 victory Wednesday night. The win was the left-hand-er's 13th and gave Chicago a

14-8 record over the Senators for the season.

Nelson Fox accounted for three of Chicago's nine hits off Sid Hudson. Fox sent the White Sox into a

1-0 lead in the first inning when he singled, went to third on Al

Zarilla's single and scored after

Orestes Minofo fled out.

Successive infield hits by Pierce and Fox, plus Minofo's single, fetched the White Sox a run in the third inning.

The Boston Red Sox advanced to within 4½ games of the Cleveland Indians and 3½ from New York as they nudged the Detroit

Tigers 2-1 in 10 innings Wednesday afternoon.

The Indians and New York

were idle.

John Pesky and Clyde Vollmer's fly to left caused Ted Gray's downfall after a brilliant duel with Bill Wight.

Both men had allowed only four hits until the Pesky-Vollmer combination decided the issue.

Motorists Face Poorer Grade Gasoline Next Month

Anti-Knock Lead Supply May Be Drastically Cut

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(AP)—American motorists soon may be limited to gasoline with "unsatisfactory performance."

This warning came Wednesday from C. E. Davis, director of the refining division, petroleum administration for defense (PAD), in an address to the National Petroleum association.

Davis predicted a drastic curtailment of tetraethyl lead for motor gasoline, unless the refining industry gets more allocated primary lead and more lead scrap.

New allocations, he said, will reduce the lead available for motor gasoline to 47 per cent of the August level.

3-Octane Reduction

"This would result in a three-octane number reduction on an average basis across the board," he added. Such a drastic reduction would mean severe hardship to all refiners and marketers and also would result in very unsatisfactory performance in a large segment of the automotive fleet of the nation."

A three-octane drop would be about half the difference between regular and premium gasoline now.

Davis said the national production authority has given tetraethyl manufacturers a September allocation of only 40 per cent of their requested total.

Expected In October

(In Washington, PAD officials said the octane rating of gasoline had declined slightly since March 1, when the tetraethyl lead allocation order was issued. This, they said, was not enough to affect automobile performance.)

(Refiners still are producing at capacity. But if additional lead is not available, the officials said, a sharp decline in the quality of motor gasoline probably will result in October. Tetraethyl lead is required to raise the anti-knock quality of gasoline.)

Big Three Ministers Report Definite Progress

Stepup Asked In Western Rearmament

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The big three foreign ministers surveyed their "cold war" strategy Wednesday and reportedly agreed that the west is making definite progress in bulwarking its defenses against possible communist aggression. Diplomatic informants balanced this moderately optimistic note, however, with a report that the foreign ministers still step up the pace of their rearmament if it is to protect the free world from attack.

Balance Sheet
Secretary of State Acheson spent two hours with Britain's foreign secretary, Herbert Morrison, and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman examining the east-west balance sheet.

Afterward, informants said the ministers agreed on the wisdom of pushing forward with their present grand strategy for defeating communism.

The state department kept a tight secrecy curtain drawn around the meetings.

Better Equipped
But it was reliably reported the ministers were generally agreed that despite new danger spots the west was now better equipped to meet communist aggression than it was when they last met in Brussels in December, 1950.

At an afternoon meeting, the foreign ministers turned to the number one western European problem—Germany.

With the aid of their high commissioners for western Germany, they tackled the problem of three-power agreement on a "peace contract" for western Germany which would bring the new West German Republic into full partnership with the west.

Tied in with this was France's continuing objection to the idea of division-sized German military units for the proposed Atlantic pact army under Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 6. If the number is less than 6, add 6. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. next year, but as we know from experience in Korea we can find ourselves involved in a large-scale campaign without any declaration. Shucks... if we can have a war without a declaration we can have a pre-convention campaign without same, too. And all indications are that the relatives and friends of the several hundred thousand Korea casualties will have an opportunity again next year to vote for the candidate of the "party of peace"... they just have to decide which party it is. And there's one thing can't be denied... unlike the poor down-trodden Russians, who haven't been able to change the ruling party since 1932, we have.

PIERRE, S. D. — South Dakota taxpayers will finish paying for a $28,000,000 state bonus to World War II veterans on Oct. 1. The special taxes included raising the sales tax from 2 per cent to 3 per cent, a 3 per cent tax on liquor, beer and cigarettes, a two mill levy on real estate, and a 1 per cent tax on automobile owners. The six metals in the platinum group are so rare that the average annual production could be stored in a cube less than three and a half feet on a side.

State General Fund Balance 'In Red'

The state general fund is "in the red" until more tax money is received, it was revealed by Aug. 31 statement of Treasurer Frank B. Heintze released Wednesday.

The balance in the fund on Sept. 1 was $385,052 but there was outstanding $775,793 in warrants. Receipts during August were $1,465,705 while warrants paid amount to $2,363,570. The balance was $1,291,736.

The total of current revenue funds in the state treasury was $16,908,711 with all other funds being in excess of the $2,255,602 of outstanding warrants.

Due to weather conditions holding up work on highways, that fund showed a larger balance than at the beginning of the month where normally expenditures are heavy. The balance was $7,260,352 as compared with $7,145,402 at the beginning of the month. Outstanding warrants were for $433,484.

Trust Funds Grow

Nebraska tucked away nearly a million dollars in investment of trust funds. The invested trust funds now amount to $27,909,548 with the addition of the $986,276 invested during the month.

Largest purchase was $589,312 for the annuity reserve fund and $196,437 for the school employees savings fund. The veterans aid fund invested $171,882, bringing its total to $7,719,007. The permanent school endowment, by investing $19,643 brought its holdings to $13,001,820.

Man Who Forged Father's Name Put On Probation

Frank B. Mahoney, 25, of 7025 Burt street, was placed on two years' probation Wednesday by District Judge John L. Polk after pleading guilty Sept. 8 to a charge of forgery.

According to information filed by Deputy County Attorney Herbert A. Ronin, Mahoney tried to cash a $125 check at two places. He didn't succeed, and was picked up by police, with the check in his possession.

Mahoney had made the check out to himself and forged his father's name to the check, according to the complaint.

Mahoney was released from the reformatory Aug. 11, 1951, after serving a year's sentence for issuing a no account check. Judge Polk put Mahoney in charge of Adult Probation Officer George H. Meyer because:

"I feel that you can still make something of yourself. I'm giving you an opportunity and I expect you to take advantage of it," Judge Polk said.
